

FREQUENZE E DATI

Di seguito viene proposto un elenco di frequenze aggiornato agli ultimi giorni di febbraio 1998 e relativo ad ascolti effettuati negli ultimi 48 mesi. Per la ricezione sono stati utilizzati i ricevitori JRC NRD535D e ICOM 8500 in abbinamento al Decoder/Analyzer W-4100DSP e al Decoder W-41PC.

Nelle cinque colonne del data-base sono riportate, nell'ordine: la Frequenza di trasmissione, il Call-Sign (utile per le operazioni di identificazione), il nome della Stazione, la Data di ricezione, il Sistema di trasmissione (cioè il codice utilizzato con la relativa velocità in baud), ed infine i dettagli, cioè il tipo di traffico che si è monitorato.

Si ricorda che è necessaria una buona dose di pazienza in quanto non tutte le stazioni trasmettono 24 ore al giorno eccezion fatta per quelle meteorologiche. Quindi non si pensi di mettersi di fronte alla radio e riuscire ad ascoltare d'un colpo le 1400 stazioni elencate. In linea generale la maggior parte di stazioni invia il proprio traffico in specifici orari della giornata. A titolo di esempio, le stazioni diplomatiche trasmettono grosso modo dalla prima metà del mattino fino a metà pomeriggio, in relazione all'attività svolta dai propri operatori. Le stazioni marittime invece non hanno momenti di sosta per cui sono ricevibili per tutto il giorno.

Non si dimentichi infine che bisogna tenere conto altresì del ciclo di propagazione radio quotidiano per cui a seconda del momento della giornata è possibile ricevere alcune piuttosto che altre frequenze.
